Keynote Speaker—Rachael Mann

Rachael Mann, Speaker and Author of The Martians in Your Classroom

Rachael Mann is the founder of #TeachlikeTED and coauthor of The Martians in Your Classroom. She speaks and writes about the future of education and helps educators rethink the learning spaces of today. Prior to #TeachlikeTED, Rachael was the Network to Transform Teaching and STEM Professional Learning Director for Northern Arizona University's AZK12 Center and State Director for Educators Rising Arizona. A former high school Career and Technical Education teacher and hailing from a family of educators, she has 14 years of classroom teaching experience. Rachael is a Google Certified Educator with a master's degree in Educational Leadership. She is a founding member of the Council on the Future of Education and serves on the NCLA Executive Board and the ACTE Executive Board representing the New and Related Services division.

Keynote: Prepare for Impact!

Educator voice is powerful and has the potential to make a huge impact on the world around us. An understanding of the role of influence to develop meaningful connections and relationships is critical to creating change and impacting the Career and Technical Education community. This keynote reveals how the leadership principles and presentation styles found in the most viewed TED Talks can be applied to your role and impact your ability to communicate ideas in a powerful way as you connect with and influence those around you. Join Rachael Mann on a journey to explore where we have been, and where we are going in order to equip students for the future. Prepare for Impact!
